TO THE TRUSTEES OF

New Providence Church
Lexington Presbyterian Church
Gentlemen:

It is our desire that we tell you. It will cost less dollars to paint your church with L. & M. Paint, because more painting is done with one gallon of L. & M. than with two gallons of other paints, and the L. & M. Zinc hardens the L. & M. White Lead and makes the L. & M. Paint wear like iron.

Any church will be given a liberal quantity free whenever they paint with L. & M. Paint, mixed with 3 gallons of Lined Oil will paint a moderate sized house.

Actual cost L. & M. about $1.30 per gallon.

E. Webb, Painter, Hickory, N.C., writes, "Houses painted with L. & M. 15 years ago have not needed painting since."

Sold by McCrum Drug Co., Lexington, Va. H. L. Gilkerson, Buena Vista, Va.

Fortunate Missourians

"When I was a druggist at Livonia, Mo., I wrote T. J. Dreyer, now of Grayville, Mo., 'three of my customers were permanently cured of consumption by Dr. King's New Discovery, and are well and strong today. One was trying to sell his property and move to Arizona, but after using New Discovery a short time he found it unnecessary to do so. I regard Dr. King's New Discovery as the most wonderful medicine in existence.' Surfeit Cough and Cold cured and Throat and Lung healed. Guaranteed by E. H. Gorrell, druggist, 50c. and $1. Trial bottle free.

Married

GIBSON-MORRIS—On Wednesday, Nov. 14, 1906, at Lexington, Va., by Rev. D. A. Penick, D. D., Mr. John William Gibson and Miss Lillian Morris, daughter of Wm. T. Morris, from upper Kerr's Creek.

HOSTETTER-HITE—On Wednesday, Nov. 14, 1906, at Lexington, Va., by Rev. D. A. Penick, D. D., Mr. George William Hostetter and Miss Lillian Madison Hite, daughter of Mr. Jos. McD. Hite.

Postmaster Robbed

G. W. Fouts, postmaster at Riverton, Ia., nearly lost his life and was robbed of all comfort, according to his letter, which says: "For 20 years I had chronic liver complaint, which led to such a severe case of jaundice that even my finger nails turned yellow; when my doctor prescribed Electric Bitters, which cured me and kept me well for eleven years." Sure cure for Biliousness, Neuralgia, Weakness and Stomach troubles. Get Bitters and Blander's Remedy. A wonderful Tonic. At B. H. Gorrell's drug store, 50c. extra.

Double Funeral Yesterday

A double funeral took place yesterday at the First Baptist church, Lexington, over the remains of Addison Todd, aged 79 years, a worthy colored man of the community, and Mrs. Fannie Robinson, aged 49 years. The pastor, Rev. W. J. Lucas, officiated, and a large crowd was present at the very unusual services. Both caskets were borne to the pulpit at the same time and the funeral service was directed to both of the deceased.

A Mountain of Gold

could not bring as much happiness to Mrs. Lucia Wilke of Caroline, Wis., as did one 25c. box of Buckle's Arnica Salve, when it completely cured a running sore on her leg, which had tortured her 23 long years. Greatest anti-septic healer of Piles, Wounds and Sores. 25c. at B. H. Gorrell's drug store.

Thanksgiving Dinner

The ladies of New Monmouth Presbyterian church will serve dinner Thanksgiving Day at the residence of Mr. S. Walter McCown, consisting of oysters, ice cream, cake and other delicacies. The proceeds are for the benefit of the church. The public is cordially invited, and their patronage will be appreciated.

Deaths from Appendicitis

decrease in the same ratio that the use of Dr. King's New Life Pills increases. They save you from danger and bring quick and painless release from constipation and the ill-giving out of it. Strength and vigor always follow their use. Guaranteed by B. H. Gorrell, druggist, 25c. Try them.

Church Supper

The ladies of Trinity Methodist church will serve oysters, salads, ice cream and cake at the Ideal Cafe on Thursday evening, November 22nd, from 7:45 to 12 o'clock. Fancy articles will also be on sale. The patronage of the public is solicited.

To Cure A Cold In One Day

Take Laxative Bromo Quinine Tablets. All druggists refund the money if it fails to cure. E. W. Grove's signature on each box, 25c.

Virginia Military Institute football team will play Davidson College in Lynchburg Thanksgiving Day.

"My child was burned terribly about the face, neck and chest. I applied Dr. Thomas' Electric Oil. The pain ceased and the child sank into a restful sleep."—Mrs. Nancy M. Hanson, Ham-burg, N. Y.

Hives, eczema, itch or salt rheum sets you crazy. Can't bear the touch of your clothing. Doan's Ointment cures the most obstinate cases. Why suffer? All druggists sell it.

It costs less to paint church or building with L. & M. Paint because 12 gallons of the L. & M. mixed with 9 gallons of Lined Oil makes paint cost about $1.20 per gallon. It does as much painting as 21 gallons of any other paint that costs $1.50 a gallon.
Sold by McCrum Drug Co., Lexington.

Personals

Mr. Samuel O. Campbell was a visitor in Wytheville last week.

Stanton Argus: Miss Supinger of Lexington, visited the Misses Marshall here last week.

Mrs. P. C. Garing is visiting her husband, Mr. P. C. Garing in Baltimore, and is the guest of Mrs. Short of that city.

Mr. J. Olin Faulkner has been elected one of the editors of the Ring-tum Phi to succeed Mr. W. R. Shields, who resigned.

Protracted services are still in progress at Trinity Methodist church conducted by the pastor, who is assisted by Rev. Augustus Davison of Baltimore.

Miss Bookie Campbell, who is attending Randolph-Macon Woman's College in Lynchburg, spent several days in Lexington visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Samuel O. Campbell. She returned to Lynchburg Monday.

The event is announced to take place on the evening of Saturday, November 24th, at 6 o'clock, at the home of the bride on Washington street, Lexington.

"Charley's Aunt" Next Week at Opera House

"Charley's Aunt," the charming three-act farce to be presented by the Washington and Lee Dramatic Club on the nights of Monday and Tuesday, November 26th and 27th, will not only open the season for the dramatic club but will be the initial performance at the Henry Street Opera House, which has just been completed by Mr. Pearson.

The story of the play is that of two college boys, and their love-making is greatly complicated by the failure of their aunt to appear as chaperone for a luncheon given by the boys. Their college chum, Lord Fencourt Babberly, is pressed into service and disguised as the aunt. The situations that ensue are laughable to the last degree. The fun is continuous and an evening of entire enjoyment is promised.

The play is under the personal management of Miss Annie White, whose reputation for successful entertainments is too well known to need comment. The sale of seats open Wednesday morning at Stuart's book store.

Following is the cast of characters:

Death of Mrs. Greenlee Farrow

Mrs. Martha Farrow died Saturday evening, November 17, 1906, at her home three miles south of Lexington. For a long time she had been in failing health and her death was no surprise to her friends. She was a daughter of the late Andrew Dixon and was born and reared near Monmouth church. About 25 years ago she was married to Mr. Greenlee Farrow, who survives, with five children, as follows: Messrs. Minor, Frank and John Farrow, and Misses Bessie and Agnes Farrow. Two brothers and one sister also survive, Messrs. William A. and James T. Dixon and Miss Jane Dixon, all residents of the vicinity of Old Monmouth church.

Mrs. Farrow was aged about 45 years, and was a member of Wesley Chapel Methodist church. The remains were buried in the Lexington cemetery Monday morning, Rev. Frank F. Neel officiating.

Col. Finney to Lecture Here

Col. W. W. Finney, a native of Virginia, will deliver a lecture Friday night, November 23rd, in the Jackson Memorial Hall, Virginia Military Institute, on the life of General Wade Hampton. Colonel Finney graduated in 1848 from the Virginia Military Institute and became a mining and civil engineer by profession. He has had a varied experience; fought gold in California as one of the "Forty-niners," was one of the promoters with Maj. B. F. Ficklin of Virginia of the transcontinental penny express; fought with distinction in the Civil War, and has been a man of affairs in various fields of endeavor.

The lecture begins at 8 o'clock, and the price of admission is 25 cents.

Marriage Licenses

The following marriage licenses have been issued this week from the clerk's office in Lexington:

Mr. Arthur Wilson Hite and Miss Eugenia Nina Grant, daughter of Mr. U. H. Grant,
Mr. John Rutherford Rowan and Miss Carless Rowan, daughter of Mr. J. D. Rowan, deceased.
Mr. Burgess Miranda Davis and Miss Bertha Mary Nair, daughter of Mr. A. L. Nair.

Col. Joseph H. Sherrard Died Tuesday Morning

Colonel Joseph Holmes Sherrard died early Tuesday morning in Lexington, after an illness of some months from brights disease. In his death Lexington loses a man who has been an interesting figure for many years. Possessing a mind of superior culture and a disposition of hearty frankness and sociability, Colonel Sherrard was the life of any company in which he was found. He had a wonderful fund of incidents and jokes, which he related with rare attractiveness, so much so that his hearers were always entertained and instructed.

Colonel Sherrard was a son of Judge Joseph H. Sherrard of Winchester, Va., where he was born November 15, 1835. He was, therefore, only a few days over 71 years of age. His early life was spent in Winchester, and during the session of 1860-61 he attended Judge John W. Brockenbrough's famous Law School in Lexington, which afterwards became the Washington and Lee University Law School. After graduation Colonel Sherrard spent some years in Illinois. He was a gallant soldier of the Confederacy and served with distinction in Company F, 2nd Virginia Infantry, Stonewall Brigade, and later as lieutenant in Company H, 11th Virginia Cavalry, Rosser's Brigade. He was several times wounded in battle, and for a time served as prisoner at Johnson's Island.

Colonel Sherrard in 1865 married Miss Rachel Primrose Cameron, daughter of the late Col. A. W. Cameron of near Lexington, who died about twenty years ago and was buried in Bath county. For a while after his marriage he lived in Rockbridge, and later removed to Bath county, where he resided until the year 1896, when he returned to Rockbridge and located near Lexington. For the past fifteen years he resided in Lexington. While living in Bath county he represented this district in the State Senate during the days of Readjusterism. Some years after the death of his first wife Colonel Sherrard married a Miss Cochran of Staunton, who survives.

Colonel Sherrard is survived by three children, Messrs. J. Holmes and A. Cameron Sherrard of Clinchport, Va., and Miss Rose Sherrard of Lexington. Another daughter, Mrs. Frank S. Coe, died some years ago. One sister also survives, Miss Lizzie Sherrard of Winchester.

The funeral took place this morning at 11 o'clock from R. E. Lee Memorial Episcopal church, conducted by the rector, Rev. W. C. Bell, and the remains were laid to rest in the Lexington cemetery. The pallbearers were Judge W. P. Houston, Col. J. D. H. Ross, Capt. J. Preston Moore, Capt. J. A. McNeill, Capt. A. M. Monroe, Capt. D. E. Moore, Messrs. T. D. Barclay, W. C. Stuart, J. A. Jackson and J. Gasman.

Complimentary to Col. Ford

A number of papers of the State have recently contained articles favorable to the election of Colonel H. C. Ford to the superintendency of the Virginia Military Institute to succeed General Scott Shipp, whose resignation is in the hands of the Board of Visitors to take effect at the end of the present session. The Norfolk Landmark says editorially:

That was a strong letter which came to The Landmark from Middletown, Conn., in behalf of Col. Henry C. Ford, of the Virginia Military Institute, whose friends are urging him as the successor of Superintendent Shipp. Col. Ford is now Professor of English and Latin at the Institute and has frequently acted as Commandant of the Corps of Cadets. He is a young man, and yet has had much experience in the instruction and discipline of the youth. He is a handsome figure of a soldier, he has an accomplished scholar, and he has plenty of backbone. The combination of brains and character strongly qualifies Col. Ford, and his many warm friends and admirers are losing no opportunity to say a good word for his candidacy.

Thanksgiving Services

Union Thanksgiving services will be held at R. E. Lee Memorial Episcopal church at 11 o'clock, Thursday, November 29th, Thanksgiving Day. The rector, Rev. W. C. Bell, will preach the sermon. All the churches in town will unite in the services, and Mr. Bell will be assisted by the others ministers of Lexington. The collection, as usual, will be divided among the four churches for the benefit of the needy.

The day will be observed as a holiday, and the postoffice, the banks, public offices and stores and business houses generally will be closed. Academic duties will be suspended at Washington and Lee and the Virginia Military Institute, and the public schools will be closed.

Prospective Canning Factory

A meeting will be held at the Courthouse tomorrow (Thursday) morning at 11 o'clock in the interest of considering a proposition for the establishment in Lexington of a toll canning factory. The business men of Lexington and farmers of Rockbridge are invited to be present. The plans and workings of such a plant will be fully explained by gentlemen who are familiar with the enterprise. It is hoped that they will be given a good crowd.

Turkeys for Thanksgiving are reported very scarce in Rockbridge, and they will be correspondingly high.

Mr. Witt and Miss Almond Married in Lynchburg

Lynchburg News of Sunday: A wedding which caused unusual interest in Lynchburg, was that of Miss Belle Almond, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. C. H. Almond, to Mr. David Edward Witt of Lexington, which took place at the First Baptist church Wednesday evening, November 14th. The wedding was brilliant on account of the beautiful church decorations, the handsome gowns of the attending ladies, the elaborate music and the large company assembled.

The ushers were: Mr. C. H. Almond, Jr., Mr. C. S. Kinnier, Mr. W. J. Dickerson and Mr. Henry McCue, of Roanoke. The attendants were: Mr. William Patton of Lexington, Miss Ethel Almond; Mr. George Harrington of New York, Miss Margaret Witt of Lexington; Mr. W. H. A. Happer of Richmond; Miss Margaret Rucker of Buena Vista; Mr. William A. Adair of Lexington; Miss L. V. Cunningham of Buena Vista; Mr. George W. Witt of Roanoke; Miss Belle Cave, of Kentucky; Mr. S. M. Almond, Miss Blanch Hills of Kentucky; Mr. W. H. Baker of Petersburg, Va.; Miss Elsie Gilliam. The matrons of honor were: Mrs. Frank Almond and Mrs. C. H. Almond, Miss Nanette May Almond being maid of honor. The groom was attended by his best man, Professor William Jett Lauck, of Washington and Lee University. The bride wore a handsome gown of radium silk over tulle, made princess train with lace point lace yoke and bertha, and a long tulle veil. She carried a shower bouquet of lilies of the valley and roses. The ceremony was performed by Dr. W. E. Hatcher of Richmond, assisted by Dr. W. L. Pickard, the bride's pastor.

After the wedding a beautiful reception was tendered the bride and groom by the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. C. H. Almond, at their residence, on Fifth avenue. The spacious rooms and colonial hall were elaborately decorated in palms and evergreens, with South-eastern and yellow chrysanthemums. Mr. and Mrs. Almond were assisted in receiving by the bride and groom, who stood under an arch of evergreen, with two cupids suspended overhead.

Mr. and Mrs. Witt left on an early train for a Southern tour and will return in about two weeks to this city, in which they will reside. The groom is the special representative of the Germania Fire Insurance Company of New York.

Among the out-of-town guests were the following: Mr. and Mrs. R. E. Witt, Messrs. R. E. Witt, H. M. Witt and Miss Sophie Booker, of Lexington.

Frank T. Glasgow qualified as notary public.

Parsonage Fund Increases

The Baptist parsonage fund continues to increase slowly, and the members of that congregation are putting forth their best endeavors to raise the requisite amount by the last of this month to meet the balance due on their handsome parsonage. By so doing they will secure a provincial subscription of $100. A part of this balance was secured by the supper last Thursday night. Individual subscriptions, however small, are invited, with the hope that the small balance yet due may be realized within the next ten days.

Death of Mr. Wev

Information has been received in Lynchburg of the death of Mr. Oscar N. Wev, which occurred on the Pacific coast during a recent storm in Puget Sound. Mr. Wev was 27 years of age and held a position with a government wireless telegraph station. He is a son of Mr. Wev, a former resident of Lexington, who was killed here some years ago.

Agnor—Nushaw

Mr. W. E. Agnor and Miss Zora Nushaw both of Dayton, Ohio, were married at the home of Mr. Bert Kepler of that city, Sunday evening, November 11, 1906, Rev. L. S. Woodruff officiating. Mr. Agnor is a son of Mr. and Mrs. D. V. Agnor of near Lexington, and has been a resident of Dayton for the past six years.

Wanted: Young ladies to clerk in store. Address Box 264, Lexington, Va.

Sudden Death of Mrs. W. T. Robey at Buena Vista

Mrs. W. T. Robey died early Thursday morning at her home in Buena Vista from paralysis. She was alone, save the presence of her infant, three months old. She retired Wednesday night in her usual good health, and in consequence the news of her sudden death was a great shock to her many friends Thursday morning. The following report is taken from the Buena Vista Times of last Friday:

"Since the birth of her first and only boy, a few months since, she has slept in her room alone with her baby, and was accustomed to locking the door before retiring. This she did Wednesday night. Yesterday morning Mr. Robey left his room on the first floor at 5 o'clock, as usual, to look after things at his livery stable just across the street from his home. Upon leaving the house he heard the baby crying, but thinking it was not unusual, went on to the stable. At six o'clock he returned to breakfast, and his wife not having come down, and hearing the child still crying, he went up to Mrs. Robey's door and called several times. She did not answer, so he broke the door open and entered, to find his young wife but recently a bride, cold in death. Dr. Merriweather was promptly called, but no human aid was needed. Death had placed its cold and rigid stamp upon her. She had been dead for hours when the doctor arrived."

Mrs. Robey was a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Henkle of Buena Vista, and the second wife of Mr. Robey, whom she married something over a year ago. She is well remembered in Lexington where her parents lived some years ago.

The funeral took place from her late home Saturday morning, conducted by her pastor, Rev. J. B. Henry of the Methodist church, assisted by Rev. Charles Fetter, rector of the Episcopal church. Interment was made in the Green Hill cemetery.

April Weather in November

For the last few days we have been enjoying April weather, with showers and sunshine, and with the thermometer ranging round about 65 degrees. It is so uncomfortably warm and sultry that fires are uncomfortable, yet it is risky to health to dispense with them.

Just a week ago today the weather turned cold and last Wednesday night a slight snow fell. On Thursday morning trees and buildings were covered with garments of white, and when the sun came up the dazzling beauty of the landscape presented a scene of surpassing loveliness. The snow soon disappeared, however, and subsequent to that time there has been an upward tendency of the thermometer.

Anti-Saloon League Convention

The officials of the Anti-Saloon League of Virginia are preparing for the sixth annual convention, which is to be held at the First Baptist church in Charlottesville, on December 4-6. It is claimed that the convention will be the best yet held by the League in Virginia. It is expected also that the attendance will be a record-breaker.

An interesting program has been prepared and is being distributed by the committee. Among the speakers is Rev. J. H. Light of Fredericksburg, formerly pastor of Trinity Methodist church of Lexington, whose subject is "The Relation of the Saloon to a Pastor's Work."

Rural Route Information

A misconception seems to exist in the minds of many persons served by rural carriers as to some of the duties of the carriers. For instance, the merchants of Lexington are frequently requested by their patrons in the county to send certain articles by the carrier serving their route. The merchant here is unable to comply, for the reason that said articles are mailable, and rural carriers are prohibited from carrying any package that may be mailable. Any articles not mailable may be carried and delivered, provided such delivery does not interfere with the proper discharge of mail delivery.

Inspector Matthews of rural mail routes spent several days in Lexington this week going over the routes radiating from this place. While not giving out any information for publication, Mr. Matthews found the routes in Rockbridge satisfactorily conducted. Some slight changes are looked for from his reports.

Death of Benjamin F. Rapp at Colliertown

Nov. 12.—At five o'clock on Saturday morning, November 10, our community was shocked when the sudden death of Mr. B. F. Rapp was announced. He died from an acute attack of hemorrhages of the lungs. He had not been feeling well for several days prior to his death, but was able to be about his usual work.

Mr. Rapp was born in this county Oct. 31st, 1839, and spent most of his life in Lexington and Colliertown. His occupation was mulling. In 1881 he volunteered for service in the army and went out with the Rockbridge Grays, which ranked with the Fourth Virginia Infantry, Stonewall Brigade. He was a valiant soldier and participated in most of the battles fought in the Valley and around Richmond and at Chancellorsville, where he received a bad wound which crippled him for life.

Soon after the war Mr. Rapp married Miss Nannie J. Tribbett of Colliertown, daughter of William and Patsy Tribbett. His wife and four children survive him—Miss Mittle and Mr. Harry Rapp of Colliertown, Messrs. S. G. and Ernest Rapp of Covington; also one brother, Mr. William Rapp, of Staunton.

The loss of Mr. Rapp means to this community the loss of a kind friend and neighbor. The interment was made at Colliertown cemetery on the following Sunday, witnessed by a large assembly. Dr. W. N. Mebane conducted the services.

The protracted meeting, which had been in progress for more than ten days, closed on Tuesday, the 6th. The weather was ideal and the meeting was well attended to hear the eloquent speaker, Rev. Dr. J. B. Morton, of Pulaski. As a result of the meeting, on last Sunday Dr. Wm. N. Mebane, the pastor, received into the church 23 persons.

Mr. Robert Tomlinson of Marmion, while adjusting some bolts at his saw mill near Green Hill, had three of his fingers shredded by coming in contact with the saw, which was running. Drs. Reid White of Lexington, and Coleman amputated the fingers. The patient is doing well.

Mr. J. E. Irvine of Glasgow, who contracted to build the graded school building at Colliertown, has resumed its construction and will work a large force of hands from now until completed. The completion of the building is due January 1st.

[The above letter was written by our Colliertown correspondent for last week's issue; and although sent to the postoffice the day it was written, Nov. 12th did not reach Lexington until Wednesday night.—EDITOR.]
